DISSOLUTION OF CONFERENCE IS FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Immediate dissolution of the public group—the remaining element of the national industrial conference—is proposed in a recommendation of the committee of five, which will be made to the group this afternoon. Should the recommendation be adopted, the conference would end tonight.

Lenine Is Reported Captured

HONOLULU, Oct. 24—Nietzold Linine, Bolshevik premier of Russia, has been captured by anti-Bolshevik forces, according to a wireless message picked up by the Japanese ship Tenyo Maru in the harbor here. The message gave no further details of the reported capture of Linine.

"FAMILY OF FIVE OUGHT TO LIVE ON $2,262 A YEAR"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—Official estimates for a "health and decency" budget for government clerks place the minimum annual expenses of a family of five at $2,262; an unmarried woman, $1,063; and a single man at $1,053. These figures were made public today by Dr. Royal Meeker, chief of the division of labor statistics in connection with the investigation of federal salaries by the congressional committee.

The total item in the family budget is put at $772.03. The clothing bill for the year is put at $513.72, of which the husband is allotted $211.16, the wife $160.11, the 11-year-old boy $96.09, the 10-year-old girl $82.50 and the baby (two years) $47. Housing, fuel and light are placed at $128 and miscellaneous expenses at $516.29, a total of $2,262.03.

If the wife was especially competent in the art of shopping, did her own washing and practiced all household economy, the budget might be reduced. It was explained to a "rock bottom" amount of $2,025.56.

ULTIMATUM HANDED TO HARBORMEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—New York's harbormen faced an ultimatum by the United States shipping board that if they did not return to work by 5 o'clock this evening, the board would summarily end the long stand-off of shipping by unloading its ships with whom it had been especially for the purpose. These workers now are quartered on a vessel moored at one of the trans-Atlantic piers.

T. V. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, expressed his pleasure at the skipping board's action and said he hoped the men would return today. Some of the unions who are opposed to O'Connor, however, have voted not to return until their grievances are definitely settled. About 3,000 men out of 8,000 on strike were at work yesterday.

PATROL GARY STREETS WITH TRENCH GUNS

CHICAGO, Oct. 21—Federal troops at Gary, Indiana, today patrolled with trench guns" sections of the same off-shore type. They were thus equipped by order of General W. S. Myers, commanding the strike area under military control after he had received reports that the insurgents had been stoned by strike sympathizers.

Colonel Mapes said the troops would stand on alerters. Elsewhere in the city the industrial situation seemed generally unchanged.

Belgian Queen Advocates Suffrage But Does Not Believe In Equality Of Sexes

ON BOARD KING ALBERT'S of character when she quietly, but TRAIN IN PENNSYLVANIA, Oct. 21 with obvious determination, disregarded a suggestion that she converse Elizabeth, of the Belgians, advocates in French and for Dr. Nolf act as interpreter. As the interview proceeded, she regarded her seriously and seemed to enjoy it.

"You ask if I have gained any impressions from the factories. I have," she said, "but I have not been visited," her majesty continued, with one of her charming smiles. "I have been very much impressed with the clear-eyed, red-cheeked girls I have seen in your work-rooms, I think their evident happiness is due to the pure air, the cleanliness and the generally splendid surroundings. It is my hope that employers of working people in Belgium and all over Europe will model their factories after those in the United States."

She spoke gamely to English, however, and displayed one of her traits

"We have lost so many men in war," she added sadly, "that the women must work, and as women are the mothers of the race, everything possible should be done to protect them."

"The war taught me," she said, "that there is no equality of the sexes. My husband was a soldier and I was a nurse. So it was with all women. The future should see work divided along the same lines. When women are forced to earn their own living, I have no objection to their doing that, for which they are best fitted, but those who don't need to work should learn hygiene and general hospital work. They should be social workers, librarians, playground instructors."

Her majesty explained, however, that lack of equality between the sexes should not prevent women from voting,

WITH WILSON ILL, SECRETARY LANSING IS THE BUSIEST MAN IN WASHINGTON

The illness of President Wilson has caused many new duties to fall on the secretary of state and as a consequence he is probably the busiest man in Washington today. Without advice of the president he must handle all questions of foreign policy, as well as many domestic ones, and in addition he presides at meetings of the cabinet. He is not accountable to congress for any of his official acts, but is liable to impeachment if he encroaches on legislative ground.

Miners Plan Second Armed Invasion

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Oct. 21—Governor John W. Cornwell today sent a message to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in which he charged that a second armed invasion of the Guyan Valley coal district was being planned by the miners of the Cabin Creek coal section.

The governor also charged that arms and ammunition had been distributed among the miners, and there had been much talk of shooting public officials and taking control of the government.

The telegram, it was announced, had been sent to Mr. Lewis in Washington.

No Dancing At Party

In response to the questionnaires sent out Wednesday to the parents of the students of the High School, only 150 of the 600 have been returned. Principal C. L. Stalley announced this afternoon that no dancing would be held at the Sophomore party to-night.

The Times published the questionnaires in yesterday's issue, stating in part that the failure to return them today would signify that the parents were in favor of having dancing at the parties, but since that time the questionnaires have been changed to read that the failure to return them would signify that the parents were not in favor of allowing dancing at the class parties.

Unless more of the questionnaires are received next week in favor of dancing, the parties will be held as usual, but no dancing will be indulged in.

Of Course You Are Proud Of Y. W. C. A., Annual Drive For Funds Open On Monday

Reception For Pastor

What would Portsmouth do without the Young Woman's Christian Association? Who knows?

This is a factory town attracting a good many girls here. They best of all seek some place to stay where they can depend on home influences, that's why they go to the Y. W. C. A. Second street. The home is run on a basis of five thousand dollars a year budget. Even during these times of high war taxes the Y. W. C. A. has not changed its policy or appreciably raised its board. It accommodates fifty girls at a time and in the winter is yellow over everything but full.

The Blue Plate restaurant room, on Main street, is part of the Y. W. C. A. work in the city and is supported by the local subscriptions and one dollar membership fees.

The drive for funds begins Monday of next week. Prepare to help. Let those who besides using part of their time to help this organization, don't wait to be asked for help, for it.

Dare to Act—When Right.

Most men are afraid of making mistakes. Like men who make mistakes, who have the dash, the energy, the vibrant blood in their veins, to make mistakes. Everything in life is more or less a gamble. # Masons Impressively Celebrate Centennial Anniversary

Parade, Banquet, Dances
Add To Day's Festivities;
Many Visitors Entertained

Those eight sturdy pioneers, who back in 1818 established the first lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in Scioto County, perhaps little realized the short historical meeting was held. A buffet luncheon was served to one thousand Masons and the visiting ladies at $2.00.

Recollections of the early days of the Lodge were aptly portrayed by A. J. Fuller, for years the faithful recorder of the local Masonic bodies. He traced the events through the years past up until the present day.

It was in those days, with the membership numbered at forty, when the Lodge was called "elegant quarters from Brother James Lindwick" on Market street for the sum of $24 a year, "the sum to furnish candles and firewood." And it was with considerable humor the remark of Mr. Fuller concerning the first banquet of the Lodge was received. The feast was served to twenty-eight members in December, 1818, by Brother Prescott at a cost of $2.

Gives History of Wheelerburg Lodge

A short history of the Wheelerburg Lodge was given by E. D. McCowan in the absence of Judge George M. Osborn, who was detained at home by illness. Clyde Baum, representing the Leesville Lodge, was unable to be present to narrate this Lodge's history.

Hon. Nelson Williams, Hamilton, Past Grand Officer of the Lodge, Chapter, Council and Commandery of the State of Ohio, was the distinguished guest of the day. He delivered the principal address at the public meeting held at the High School Auditorium Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The ceremonies were brought to a close by a big dinner at the Bauman Academy of Daniel, Seventh and Chillicothe streets. The hall was so crowded that the "overflow" was taken out at the Masonic Temple.

Howard's Orchestra, Driskill Hotel, Columbus, played at the dance at Bauman's and Dibuito, Italian accordion player and former Kullik's Circuit star, took care of the "overlap."

Dancing, varicolored paper hats, garters, canes, wrapped in tissue, flags and ladies' handbags were passed out among the dancers at intervals. A luncheon was served. The dance started until 2 o'clock this morning.

Masons from Ironton, Wheelersburg, Leesville, Chillicothe, Waverly, Pickton, Wahkeena, Manchester, Greenup, Cincinnati, Huntington, Peebles, Winchester, Linden and Columbus attended the ceremonies, which were generally conceded to far surpass the best hopes of the general committee in charge.

In one hundred years the Lodge grew from a membership of eight to more than eight hundred. Today there are three lodges in Scioto county, having a total membership of 1135. Of these, 137 were in the service during the recent world conflict.

A. J. Fuller Gives
History of Local Lodge

The first Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in the State of Ohio met at Chillicothe, January 8, 1808, and was formed by representatives from the lodges of Marietta, Zanesville, Cincinnati, Chillicothe and Warren." Mr. Fuller said at the historical meeting.

"Ten years later in a reply to a request for a dispensation made by the following brethren living in the Town of Portsmouth and vicinity; Ezra Osborne, Samuel Greca, Nathan D. Cough, William Duley, George Clark, Robert Scott, Silas Cole and William Oldfield, I find the following letter written in the indicates:

"To the name of the Holy Craft, Henry Bush, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, send greetings. Whereas a number of Ancient York Masons residing in the Town of Portsmouth and vicinity, being desirous to mentine the principles and to extend the benefits of the Royal Art, have charged that a dispensation might be issued to them to congregate together as a regular Lodge, now therefore, know ye that in compliance with said petition, I have established and do hereby order that PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA.

Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and joints and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA.

You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

The Lodge occupies the rooms in the McDowell building built about 1831, when the brethren, being desirous of getting a more central location, rented rooms in the residence of Brother James Lindwick on Front between Madison and Marsie street for the sum of $24 per year, the owner to furnish candles and firewood. The Lodge remained in this place for some years, then moved to the hotel building on Market street near what is now the Market street entrance of the Washington Hotel. A few years later they moved to the Court building on the west side of Market street between Second and Third streets.

The membership of the Lodge at this time was about forty.

Early in 1851, our brethren becoming weary of moving from place to place, determined to secure a home of their own (the membership at this time was 62) and after considering other plans, decided to build up-town on the corner of Third and Washington Streets. A committee was appointed to solicit funds and succeeded in raising about five thousand dollars.

Construction of the new temple was started. The cornerstone was laid with impressive ceremonies June 18, 1857, W. M. Doggs, Grand Master officiating at the ceremony.

No Funds To Complete Building

It was soon found there were not sufficient funds to complete the building. At this time, the first story walls were laid and joists were placed in position and covered with boards. The work, for a time ceased. In 1857, a portion of the building was sold to the Hebrew congregation. Two years rent was paid in advance. This enabled the Lodge to complete the south room, but the indebtedness was so great that in 1863, the Lodge was compelled to sell a part of the structure to the Hebrew congregation to pay off the mortgage given to Brother Doggs.

909-911 Gallia Street

The membership of the Lodge at this time was 260.

How The Stock Was Distributed

The stock was distributed among the members at the offices of Brother Edgar F. Draper on Second street, it was decided to bring the proposition before the Lodge. At a meeting held August 4, 1845, during which there was much discussion and considerable opposition, it was by vote of the Lodge decided to take over the lease held by Brother Heer and the Masonic Temple Company was formed with a capital stock of $75,000. The stock was divided into 1500 shares at par value of $50 each. Brother John Heer and Brother L. W. Bragdon each took $5,000, while several others took large amounts.

The growth of the Lodge, considered at the time of the dedication in 1845, was the finest building in Portsmouth, was completed and dedicated to God, and the devotion to Truth and Honor, Manhood and Nobility of Character.

One of the most notable events in the history of Aurora Lodge took place April 8, 1853, when all of the Past Masters of the Lodge were presented with Jewels and at the same time, the last note of indebtedness of the Lodge incurred by the building of the Temple, was turned.

On November 21, 1911 at 2:15 P. M., the Grand Lodge was convened in an extraordinary session at the Hall of Aurora Lodge by Grand Master Charles G. Ballou for the purpose of laying the cornerstone of our new Masonic Temple, then in the course of construction.

The lines were formed and about 250 of our brethren marched from the Hall to Second street, up Waller to Gallia and down Gallia to Fourth and Chillicothe streets, where an immense assembly had gathered to witness the ceremonies. Those of our local brethren who took part were: Robert G. Bryan, Henry Scott Jr., J. W. Baker, J. D. Herron, Henry Hall, W. C. Scott, F. M. Bates, C. E. Wolf, John Jones, H. W. Farlow, S. J. Pingell, W. M. Balow, C. S. Cadet and E. K. Keene.

Very gratifying.

From the time of the dedication until now, the growth of the Lodge has increased. In 1850, the membership was 175. In 1861, 290; in 1869, 403. At the present time, the membership is 881. In another year, our membership will

Two weeks ago I weighed 56 lbs. Now I weigh 165 lbs. and feel perfectly well. Anyone see suffering I tell them of what Mary's Wonderful Remedy does for me. They all want to know what makes me look so well. Your medicine has also been a real life saver for my mother. I cannot recommend it too highly for stomach trouble. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal trouble from the intestinal tract and relieves the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.

One dose will convince or money refunded. Fleet and Blakie, Fisher and Stinch and Drugists everywhere.

Chillicothe, O., August 21, 1818.

On September 21, 1818, the Grand Master being present, those officers as named were publicly installed at the Court House, which then stood in the middle of Market street near Second street. An excellent discourse was delivered by Brother Lindley, founder of Presbyterians in Portsmouth and Pastor of the First Presbyterian church from 1817 to 1824.

Aurora Lodge was instituted with a membership of fifteen.

One of the earliest events was the trial by his request of Brother Henry Draper on September 21, 1818. The funeral services were held at the Court House with Brether Stephen Lindley officiating.

First Celebration Was Held Dec. 26, 1818.

The first celebration of the festival of St. John, the Evangelist, occurred December 26, 1818, with about 25 Masons in line. The dinner was served by Brother Prescott at a cost of THIRTY DOLLARS. A committee of three had been appointed at a previous meeting to form the lines and etc. The services were held at the Court House.

The first Lodge room was rented from John Smith, Esq., and was located at the corner of Front and Market Streets and known as the Mellow building and at that time was the extreme East end of the town and is now a part of the Washington Hotel.

The room was fitted up at an expense of $181.00 1/2 and was rented to part to the Episcopal Society, which used it as a place for worship, to help defray the expenses.

In digging up and about the rubbish of the Temple, Brother William A. Schilling, has recently found and brought to light a very important discovery. It is no less that the long lost records of Aurora Lodge from 1820 to 1848. So that now we have a complete record of Aurora Lodge from the time it was instituted until the present date. These records also settle beyond a doubt, although to account of it has been found in the Grand Lodge records, that a charter was issued to Aurora Lodge December 15, 1818. A copy of the charter is written in full in the minutes of this date and is signed by John Snow Grand Master Elisha Whitherry, Secretary. The date of the present charter is October 17, 1857, and if the numbering of the Lodge is given according to the date of chartering, our Lodge should be No. 41.

Aurora Lodge occupied the rooms in the McDowell building until about 1831, when the brethren, being desirous of getting a more central location, rented rooms in the residence of Brother James Lindwick on Front between Madison and Marsie street for the sum of $24 per year, the owner to furnish candles and firewood. Indian Gamblers.
Although the natives of India do not operate on the stock market, they have adopted a unique form of gambling for which the cotton market reports are responsible. Every day five questions are called from New York announcing the cotton situation. The natives looked upon this as a direct invitation to them to establish a simple but none the less absorbing form of gambling. The gambling consists simply in guessing what the five figures will amount to, and the man getting nearest to the right amount takes the stakes.

Wedding Ring Is Changed.
The wedding ring was not always plain, as we see it today. It was frequently highly ornamented and wrought with curious design. But no other ring began to be worn than the wedding ring was made completely plain. The practice, however, was long in vogue of inscribing appropriate mottoes on rings. The ring may be said to be symbolic. It is of gold and typifies purity and refinement, whereas its roundness signifies "the round flowing of mutual love and hearty affection."

To Add to Lazzari
is to spoil her

Do you want to hear Lazzari, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York—the greatest contralto of the decade?

Then what do you care about the tone of a phonograph? You want the tone of Lazzari.

What do you care about tone-regulating devices? You want the aria from Sampson and Delilah just as Lazzari sings it.

And that is what you get when you hear

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

More than ten thousand people have heard the public proof of this fact.

In these tests Lazzari sang. Suddenly she ceased to sing—and the New Edison sang the same song alone. There was no difference. It was only by watching Miss Lazzari's lips that the audience was able to tell when she ceased to sing.

No Difference

Come into our store and hear the New Edison Re-Creates Lazzari's voice. Listen closely. See if the Re-Creation doesn't make you feel the living presence of the singer.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Frank N. J.—For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand and had attacks every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I began to feel better and now I am well and kind of wonder if there have been records printed in the paper concerning and giving you my story to publish in the letter. —Miss KELLY, 475 So. 14th St., Newark.

This famous root and herb Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was so successful in Miss Kelly's case because it went to the heart trouble, restored her to a healthy condition as a result of the exercises disappeared.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please tell me how to clean and curl my hair.

Those honored for the occasion were, Mrs. Bayless, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Colvin, Mrs. Wallace and Mesdames, J. M. Graham, Charles Hanck, E. C. McCoy, A. J. McFarland, J. P. Carr, Effie M. Mrs. Alvin N. Jordan was hostess of the Scioto Bridge Club meeting Thursday afternoon. The guests were Mrs. Henning Prentiss of Pittsburgh, Mrs. F. D. Dawson, Mrs. H. E. Taylor, Mrs. W. R. Sprague, Mrs. John Reilly and Mrs. Harry C. Weller. Miss Emma Johnson will entertain the next meeting at her home on Second street.

The members of the Art Circle were guests at the home of Mrs. George M. Apel on Gallia street on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. R. M. Adair (Fazle Drew) and Mrs. Raymond R. Wilsey were guests. Keep your system cleared out, steam your skin and before rinsing your face in cold water, use a little emulsion of salt water on your face while the pores are still open. Perhaps the pimples are due to stomach or intestinal trouble and for that you should consult a physician.

Dear Dolly—I am nineteen years old. Do you think I am too young to go with the boys? I have been writing to a young fellow in another town, but we have not met yet and now he wants to wait on me some time. Do you think I should let him?

People have told me that he is a nice boy, but mother said that I ought not let him come as I am going with a boy here and they want me to marry him.

I don't love him so it looks like I ought to marry whom I want. Now Dolly please tell me what to do.

BLU EYES:

If you are nineteen years old, you should have by this time developed a mind and judgement of your own, and know such an extent that you would realize the middle ages are past and a girl marries as she desires after due thought. You, though depend too much on outside judgment. That's one reason why I think you are too young to be married. I'd suggest that you have more than one young man friend and not settle down to this one or the other with whom you correspond, either.

Your parents will allow you to meet the young man to whom you write, in your own home, it will be all right, exercise not.

But life is too short to blunder with happiness. Don't stow around at home over what you think you should or should not do. Use a little diplomacy and tact.

Ludendorff, Finding Russians Off Guard, Pushed Far Into Russia, But Could Not Finish Operation

Says Operations Around Kovno Started Too Late for Complete Success.—Advance Into Russia Accomplished Under Difficult Conditions.

Czar relieved Nicholas of his command and took charge of army

Ludendorff, at the end of the summer campaign of 1915, had a chance to show what he might have done in the way of slacking the Russians had not Falkenhayn and the Kaiser in the beginning ruined his plans for a great drive through Kovno and Vilna to the Prussian marshes. Although many troops had been taken from the Eastern Front for the campaign in Serbia and although the Russians had gone far back out of the Polish pocket, he launched an attack from the north in an attempt to outflank them.

He succeeded in putting the Russians in a dangerous situation. By resolutely marching his reinforcements army sent them to Riga and his cavalry, riding more than 100 miles across the rear of the retreating armies, cut up all of their principal railroads. But he had not the forces to keep the trap closed. He could only mourn that he had been deprived of the chance to try the game on a greater scale, when all the advantages of position were with him.

As it was, the Germans brought about the downfall of the Grand Duke Nicholas and set the Russians back far from their border.

By GENERAL ERICH LUDENDORFF
The engagements of the Niemen Army (in Courland and Lithuania, opposite the eastern end of East Prussia) during July and August had only been directly connected with the main operations so far as they had drawn enemy forces in their direction. There was, of course, a tactical co-operation of the Niemen between the inner wings of the 10th and the Niemen Army. With the attack on Kovno this co-operation became closer, and at the taking of the fortress led to their fighting on the same field of battle; it then re-laxed again. From now onwards the connection of these armies was to take a prominent part in the operations.

General Otto von Below was fighting in a distinct and separate area, and his actions therefore were more independent than those of the other commanders, who were fighting on narrow sectors. We were able to confine ourselves to giving general instructions for the conduct of the campaign.

Since the middle of July the Niemen Army had held the line of the Dvina, to southwest of Shavli, and of the Wenta and Windau down to the coast. At the beginning of the operations General von Below was ordered to make an enveloping attack on the strong enemy forces near Shavli, and, after securing his left against attack from the direction of Riga, to push east, north of the Niemen.

These operations were in particularly good hands. General von Below, who had already been regarded in peace time as an unusually efficient and self-reliant officer, had led his troops with great prudence and foresight during the battle of Tannenberg, and distinguished himself in the battle of the Masurian Lakes by the effective disposition of his forces.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg held his mantle and upright character in high esteem, and in November suggested to His Majesty that he should take over the command of the 8th Army, although he was among the most junior generals in the service to hold such a command. General von Below had fully justified the confidence placed in him by his Commanders-in-Chief.

His Chief of Staff, General von Rockmann, had long been on the General Staff, and during the war had proved himself to be a good leader of staffs and to have the makings of a good Chief of Staff. The two men

BEFORE YOU SAY GOODNIGHT

Prepare for a Clear, Bright Day Tomorrow by Taking "Cascarets" for Liver and Bowels

Drive away those persistent enemies of happiness—biliousness and constipation. Don't stay headache, sick, tongue coated, sallow and miserable! Get rid of colds, indigestion, upset stomach or that misery-making gas. Feel splendid again tomorrow by taking Cascarets to night. Cascarets are pleasant, harmless. They never grip, sicken or inconvenience you like calomel, Salta, Oil or nasty harsh pills. They cost so little and work while you sleep.

Worked together for complete harmony. At headquarters at Lotzen we could feel confident that, with the forces at their disposal, they would exploit to the full the possibilities of the operations north of the Niemen.

The communications of the Niemen Army were a difficult problem. The standard gauge railway ceased at Langenargen, northeast of Tilsit, and Memel. The Niemen, although navigable, could only be used to bring troops and supplies for the right wing of the army and the traffic control was so poor that it could not be relied upon. An attempt to tow the troops, so urgently required to reinforce the right wing, in barges up the river proved a failure. The string of barges can ground on sand-banks on the Russian side of the river.

Lithuania could only be used with the greatest caution as a base of supplies. At that time the Russian and English submarines dominated the eastern part of the Baltic. Nevertheless, with the material we had found there, we managed to maintain an inadequate service on the railway running east from Lithuania.

When our plans for a large operation began to mature we had to develop a more complete network of railways.

About the middle of July, after the arrival of the reinforcements which had been dispatched in June, the grouping of the Niemen Army was completed. Army Headquarters were bitterly disappointed because, owing to the attack on the Narva, they did not receive the quota of troops they had hoped for. They adhered to their original plan of operation notwithstanding.

(This is another bitter reference to the Kaiser's action in overruling him and accepting Falkenhayn's plan for an attack north of Warsaw in July instead of the sweeping flank movement to the north that he had schemed.)

Russians Off Their Guard

The line of the Dvina, as far as Kielna, was not very strongly held. The Int. R. G. was concentrated for attack between Kielna and Shavli. The line of the Windau was also lightly held to the point where it joined a strong sector north of the Dvina railway.

Here there were two or three infantry and as many cavalry divisions.

On July 14, when in North Poland, Prusseus had just fallen, and further south the Russians were still west of the Vistula and south of Lublin.

According to this plan the Russian front facing the 10th and Niemen Armies, which, although unbroken, was weak to the northeast of Kovno, would be pierced; that is, it would be forced back through Vilna to Druski, whilst the cavalry divisions advanced on Polotsk-Minsk.

The question remained whether the operations would still be profitable now that the Russians had retreated so far to the east. There was no doubt that every day's delay made the prospects less promising. I considered whether we should not content ourselves with a thrust on Lida (85 miles east of Grodno and about 150 miles north of the Dvina line). I rejected this idea, because, also we were compelled to take a leap in the dark.

The Niemen Army still hoped to accomplish an outstanding movement had been unsuccessful.

Accordingly I still planned my faith to the bigger scheme, because its success would bring a more substantial reward. In this case also we were compelled to take a leap in the dark.

It was clear that the 10th Army needed reinforcements, and the troops which had been investing Novo-Gorodok were employed for this purpose.

A Period of Great Anxiety

The 8th and 12th Armies had, in the course of the operations, become so concentrated that it was possible to withdraw divisions, in addition to those already earmarked for the West. They were converged to Kovno, and from thence they were assigned to the left wing of the 10th or the right wing of the 8th Army.

Meanwhile the 10th Army had been heavily attacked from Vilna. The enemy had brought reinforcements from Poland to the north. In the hope of turning the enemy's flank, the 10th Army, like the troops it confronted, had been reinforced on the north in the direction of Vilkomir. The fighting was particularly heavy on the northern bank of the Vilna (north of Vilna).

We passed once more through a period of great anxiety. We had steadily expedited the early stages of the operations, but the capacity of the Warsaw-Kovno railway was limited owing to its unfinished condition. Everything took an endless time, and in addition to this the roads were bad and the troops were no longer fresh.

At last, on September 9, the advance began. The Niemen Army had good progress toward Druski-Johstadt. Near Uzlyany their right wing advanced along the Kovno-Dvinsk road and soon drove the enemy back beyond Novo-Alexandrovsk. The enemy made a stand at both bridgeheads and the fighting here was long and severe.

The left wing of the 10th Army, south of Vilkomir (50 miles northeast of Vilna), made good progress on the first two days toward Vilna above Vilna. Further on, however, they were only able to force the Russians back across this river by degrees.

Great Sweep by Cavalry

Between the inner wings of the two armies, from Druski to the Vilna, the cavalry divisions had more room to maneuver. In the first place they had to find their way through the lake country between Vilkomir and Sventyan, which was taken on the 13th. From here the divisions were directed Vitebsk-Moldovitch (50 miles southeast of Vilna) and the Molchitschino-Dvinsk railway half way between the two places.

It was now possible to bring up the cavalry divisions of the 8th Army. The Vilna-Moldovitch-Polotsk railway (near Smorgon 60 miles east of Vilna) and eastward had been reached by the 14th, and the Russian right wing on the Vilna, northeast of Vilna, seriously threatened. The Orsha-Minsk railway was also cut in the neighboring towns.

Fresh Russians Stop Them

Meanwhile the Russians had been reinforced. The weak forces of the Niemen Army were distributed over a very wide area, so that, for the time being, they were unable to advance further with reinforcement. They were in touch with the left wing of the 10th Army, as the latter, after taking Kovno, had again encountered strong enemy forces half way to Vilna.

An attack by the fleet in the Bay of Riga, on August 8, had no influence on the operations on land.

The rapid advance of the Niemen Army showed that still more could be done if the forces had been stronger and better equipped, especially in regard to supply columns.

(Another shot of the Kaiser and Falkenhayn for overruling his great plan.)

In the second half of August the idea of continuing operations east of the Niemen had assumed more definite shape. The attack on the back of the retreating army from Poland (the direction of Rovno-Vilna-Vilna) had long delayed.

This attack was to be carried out by the 10th Army, whilst the 8th and 12th Armies and the southern army groups were to keep up the pressure on the enemy.

Sticks to His Big Idea

The operations of the 10th Army required that its flank should be protected on the north from Riga to Druski, which is a junction for several lines from the northeast and east. The Niemen Army was to continue its advance with Druski as the objective.

Whilst a strong contingent of troops advanced toward the two railway lines to the south.

According to this plan the Russian front facing the 10th and Niemen Armies, which, although unbroken, was weak to the northeast of Kovno, would be pierced; that is, it would be forced back through Vilna to Druski, whilst the cavalry divisions advanced on Polotsk-Minsk.

The question remained whether the operations would still be profitable now that the Russians had retreated so far to the east. There was no doubt that every day's delay made the prospects less promising.

I considered whether we should not content ourselves with a thrust on Lida (85 miles east of Grodno and about 150 miles north of the Dvina line).

I rejected this idea, because, also we were compelled to take a leap in the dark.

The Niemen Army still hoped to accomplish an outstanding movement had been unsuccessful.

Accordingly I still planned my faith to the bigger scheme, because its success would bring a more substantial reward.

Meanwhile the 10th Army had been heavily attacked from Vilna. The enemy had brought reinforcements from Poland to the north.

In the course of this the enveloping movement was not effective. In the course of the fighting, which lasted until July 24, these operations, which became known as the "Battle of Shavli," ended with the retreat of the full Russian Army beyond Shavli towards Ponievezh (50 miles south of east of Shavli). Portions of it got away, as the German cavalry in their rear was short of artillery.

Ponievezh was occupied by us on July 29. On the left wing the cavalry reached out to the Bay of Riga and joined up with the infantry advancing on Milan, which was taken on August 1. Further south the Dvina was crossed and by July 29 the Kovno-Polotsk had been occupied.

Communication had now to be established once more and the troops supplied with ammunition. Supply columns had been sent in great numbers to the 10th and 8th Armies (pursuing the Russians further south) and the Niemen Army was correspondingly short. Their further advance now began to slow down. There was a long halt, whilst the left wing pushed forward toward the Dvina. To the south of Riga the Russians were holding an important bridgehead, which was to be a thorn in our flesh for a long time to come. On the other hand, early in September the Dvina was reached between Uzlyany and Friedrichau (a village from beginning 10 miles southeast of Dvinsk), and the enemy turned back to the opposite bank.

It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotin tablets. Take one tablet every day. The tobacco habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting information by Dr. Connor in the back of this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotin tablets; you will be surprised at the results. Flood & Blake.

ARE OUT TO INCREASE THE RAIL RATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Railroad corporations have started the collection of data for presentation to the Interstate commerce commission in advocacy of increased transportation rates. After Director General Blies declined in a conference yesterday to take an active part in the negotiations, the railroad corporations decided to act independently and started immediately the accumulation of material to convince the commission of the reasonableness of their demands.

The director general's refusal was based on the ground that the government had no intention of initiating advances, but he agreed to place at the disposal of the corporations the services of the experts of the railroad administration and all available information bearing on the subject.

The percentage of increase, which the railroads will ask for, has not been determined, but 25 percent has been mentioned commonly as the amount. Operating expenses, it has been estimated, have increased about 95 percent and the deficit incurred by the government in the operation of the railroads in the first eight months of this year was approximately $290,000,000.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED IN PARLIAMENT

LONDON, Oct. 24—Members of the Lloyd George cabinet are today considering the situation which has arisen as a result of the adverse vote in the house of commons yesterday, when the government's amendment to the alien bill was rejected by a vote of 125 to 113.

Because of the fact there was only about half of the members of the house in their seats when the vote was taken, it is believed, the government will not resign, but it is possible that Edward Shortt, home secretary, who was in charge of the alien bill, may quit office. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house, secured a delay until Monday for his colleagues by moving an adjournment immediately after the vote on the alien bill had been announced. Mr. Bonar Law's declaration that any subsequent action by the ministry would "depend upon the view of the house of commons as a whole," may indicate an intention on the part of the government to ask for a vote of confidence at an early date.

BULGARIA TURNS IN HER REPLY

PARIS, Oct. 24—Bulgaria's reply to the peace terms of the allied and associated powers were handed to Secretary Dulatza, of the peace conference, this morning. The time limit for the presentation of the reply expired today.

The answer comprises three pamphlets, the first relating to the political and labor clauses, the second to the territorial provisions, and the third to the military, naval, aerial and reparations terms. The supreme council is holding no session today. It will meet tomorrow, however, and take cognizance then of the reply.

It is about worth its price in this respect. It is a mild and pleasant in action. I feel better all over, since taking Trutona and I'm sure it will do others a lot of good."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Portsmouth at Worcester Bros' drug store.

"Trutona Helped Me In

Mrs. Flemings Asserts

IRONTON, Oct. 24—Mrs. Rosie Flemings is among the well known and highly respected residents of Ironton who are today publicly offering praise for Trutona, the perfor- mative. Mrs. Flemings says:

"I was suffering from nervousness and stomach trouble. I didn't eat much and the little food I ate didn't digest properly. I was usually constipated. A heavy feeling in my stomach almost invariably followed my meals. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep or rest well at night."

Would we dare urge our customers to look elsewhere BEFORE buying, if our knowledge of conditions did not include the possibility of anyone selling for less?

The keen search for "honest values" during this period of skyroketting prices through which we are faring, has taught many women to LOOK HERE BEFORE THEY BUY, which undoubtedly accounts for The Fashion's rapidly increasing business.

Art in dress—may be defined as the selection of the right lines to interpret the "Personality of the Wearer."

The creative artist in dress masters the natural lines of the figure on which he superimposes the right artistic line, so that the individuality of the wearer is first comprehended and then balanced.

CUT THIS OUT*Old English Recpie For Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noses

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently causes total deafness or else the disease may be driven down the air passages toward the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable conditions.

Sixteen from your druggist 1 ounce of Parment (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the mastoid tubes is reduced.

Parment, used in this way acts directly upon the blood and nervous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

MEMBERS OF CREW INJURED AND TWO C. & O. ENGINES WRECKED IN COLLISION

Relative to a wreck which occurred yesterday the frontonians this morning said:

One of the worst freight wrecks in the Russell yards for a number of years occurred Thursday and resulted in the partial demolition of two freight engines and slight injuries to a number of employees.

A yard train drawn by engine No. 472 in charge of Conductor James Brannigan of Trenton with Engineman Sandy of Trenton and Brakeman J. W. Miller of Russell as crew, was going east on the west bound main line under orders and at a curve some thousand yards below the R. U. Caddie, met a west bound local freight engine and caboose. The local freight was drawn by Engine No. 351 and the train was in charge of Conductor Weatherford with Engineer Gibson of Covington and Fireman Neal of Mayfield.

Both conductors evidently thought they had the right of way but neither train saw the other on account of the view being obstructed by a string of freight cars and the engines were very close together when it was seen.

CLASSIFICATION – A VITAL QUESTION FOR OHIO

Editorial from Cincinnati Times Star

Oct. 22

A year ago the people of Ohio voted on an amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the Legislature to classify property for purpose of taxation.

This amendment carried by a majority of about 32,000. Later on, however, it was thrown out by the Supreme Court, because another amendment had been adopted at the same time and this second amendment was held to be contrary to the classification amendment.

In 1918 classification offered Ohio its best chance of getting away from a system of taxation which admittedly is impractical and out of date, which encourages tax dodging, which puts too much of the burden of taxation on real estate and which fails to provide the revenues which the State and its various political subdivisions must have if they are to escape bankruptcy.

A NEW SYSTEM IS NEEDED

But if the adoption of classification was desirable a year ago, it is vitally important today. The financial crisis which then threatened the State government and the governments of most of the counties and cities has become very much more acute. In a way the old system has broken down; it has become necessary to find new sources of revenue. We already have adopted an inheritance tax; the Legislature proposes within a few months to impose also an income tax. If we do have an income tax in Ohio, with the inquisitorial features which mark the Federal income tax and many of the State income taxes; and if at the same time we still cling to the old futile effort to force readily movable personal property onto the tax duplicate and take a quarter or a half of your thousands at a 1.55 per cent rate, Ohio will be in fact and dollars away from you as back taxes. Meantime tax dodging should become a the severest blow to her prosperity and her industrial development in the long history of the State.

BANK DEPOSITS NOT LISTED

Take the matter of bank deposits. Under the so-called uniform rule, people living in Ohio are supposed to pay taxes on any money they may have on deposit in banks or building associations. As a matter of fact they do not return this money for taxation. If we have an income tax law, however, and if the leaders of the State Grange have their way, it presently will be the duty of the tax authorities to go into the banks and to take off the names of depositors and the amounts of their deposits.

Take your own case, dear reader. Perhaps you live in Ohio and have $1,000 on deposit in a bank or building association. Are you willing to pay the State $15.50 a year for the privilege of holding that money?

It is safe to say that you never have done so. Inquisitorial laws might force you to do it once; they might even go further should mean increased revenues for hard-pressed State and local governments. But they would never do it a second time. After that one lesson, if the experience of humanity in this and many other States and in other countries counts for anything, you would move your money away, and perhaps you might move yourself away with it.

This is particularly true because of conditions in most of the States, which are ages of Kentucky in general and of Ohio's neighbors. Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Michigan, West Virginia — all these States classify property for taxation. In these States money on deposit in banks is either taxed at a low rate, or, if it is not earning interest, it may not be taxed at all. What would it mean to the prosperity of Ohio if most of the money now in Ohio banks were moved to banks in Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia?

What is true of the money on deposit in banks is true of other forms of intangible personal property. If a man owns a bond or a share of stock which pays 4 1/2 or 5 per cent on the investment, past experience shows that he will not give up one-third of the income as a personal property tax. Stocks and bonds can easily be moved; all past experience shows that they will be moved if the pressure of taxation upon their owners becomes too severe.

Failure for the classification amendment on the 4th of November would be a disaster of the first magnitude to Ohio. On the other hand, if classification is adopted very important benefits should accrue to the State. If classification goes into effect taxes on homes and farms cannot be higher than they are today. A great volume

The Louisville Industrial Foundation ran an advertisement in this newspaper on October 4, 1919, setting forth the advantages of Kentucky in general and of Louisville as a home for factories in particular.

"Bring your money to Kentucky," said this advertisement, "and buy a productive farm and estate where the crown of tax inequality is not pressed down on the brow of the man who has his money in land. Bring your money to Kentucky, where each class of property is taxed according to its ability to earn; where under our system of classification, which has been in effect for two years, the tax revenues derived from land have been reduced from 77 per cent to 57 per cent of the entire tax revenues collected. Bring your money to Kentucky for deposit or investment, under a tax law that does not punish the honest taxpayer, that offers no incentive for any taxpayer to be dishonest; that operates so fairly on all classes of property that tax evasion is rapidly being reduced to a minimum."

None of the questions that will be submitted to the voters of Ohio on November 4th are of more real importance to the future of the State than the classification amendment. There is no sound reason why any dweller in Ohio, farmer or city man, worker or capitalist, should oppose this amendment. There are many reasons why all of us should support it.

FIRST—By resolution it limited the payment of pledges to seven (7-12) twelfths of the amounts pledged.

SECOND—It has refunded to subscribers amounts paid in excess of seven (7-12) twelfths.

represented of Uncle Sam. The deal also includes Sheridan and Kirk's equipment at Dam 24, which is located near Riveswood, W. Va.

"I have no plans for the future but expect to remain in Portsmouth for the present," Mr. Sheridan said this morning at his office in the First National Bank building.

According to the statement of a representative of the Government, who closed the deal Uncle Sam has been forced to secure dam building equipments as the Government will build its own dams in the future owing to the excessive bids being submitted by contractors. The first dam Uncle Sam will build will be at Stilson near New Richmond, O.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT
READY TO SIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 President Wilson had before him today the prohibition enforcement bill, recently passed by congress, with an opinion by Attorney General Palmer as to the measure's constitutionality.

Interest in the president's action on the bill was heightened by reason of the fact that the war time enforcement section, making illegal the manufacture or sale of liquor of more than one-half of one percent alcohol, becomes effective with his signature.

It was considered doubtful, however, by White House officials whether the president would be permitted by Rear Admiral Grayson, his personal physician, to consider the bill and the opinions today. Despite the president's activity yesterday and the day previous Dr. Grayson was able to announce just now that "the president is satisfactorily maintaining the improvement which he has recently made."

PUBLIC GROUP CARRIES THE BURDEN OF SAVING INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The burden of carrying on the national industrial conference developed today upon the public group after the withdrawal of the labor group and the consequent dissolution of the employers' group. President Wilson, through Secretary Lane, chairman of the conference, called upon the public group to remain in session and complete the work of formulating a plan for the establishment of new relationship between capital and labor, for which the original conference was called.

Some discussion was noted among the remaining delegates as the result of a feeling that they were the "remnant" of the conference wreckage, but the leaders were hopeful that the public group, who, it was pointed out, in reality represented all classes, could save the day by assuming the responsibility of the whole conference.

Secretary Lane informed the conference that the president, if necessary, would nominate additional delegates for the public group to give the conference a more representative scope.

ALITERALLY suppose that they have normal vision. But it doesn't necessarily follow at all. Many folks of strong physique can and do overcome errors of vision by drawing on their excess energy. But there would be just that much less tax upon their strength if they wore glasses. Every person should have his or her eye errors corrected.

THE MOVIES

E. B. Warner in a scene moment in "The Pagan God."

H. B. Warner in "The Pagan God," A Thrilling Drama of Oriental Life At The Columbia Tonight Only

H. B. Warner, famous actor of two continents, has an excellent opportunity to exploit his talents in "The Pagan God," a Superior Picture produced by Jess D. Hampton and distributed by Exhibitors Mutual. Robertson Coates controls the world's rights.

"The Pagan God" is a story of the Orient with Warner in the role of Bruce Winthrop, an American diplomatic agent who becomes involved in the intrigue of a Chinese "Feng of Freedom" revolutionary society which is plotting to steal the throne of Mongolia. Things begin to happen when Winthrop apparently falls head over head in love with the beautiful half-caste siren leader of the revolution who has determined to have the young American as her co-ruler of Mongolia. The curio-collecting father of Beryl Addison, Winthrop's sweetheart, drags his daughter and himself into a fearful mess when he comes into possession of a jade tablet which, unknown to him, contains a secret list of the members of the wily Orientals by Winthrop after a thrilling fight in the palace of Tsin with the longhorns.

A strong cast supports Warner, including Carmen Phillips, who plays Tai Hsing the half-caste Cleopatra, Marguerite De La Motte, Ed Tell, Jack Abbott, Carl Stockdale, Walter Perry and E. B. Tilton.

William S. Hart in "Breed of Men" Has Most Unusual Role Popular Aircraft Star at His Best in His Latest Incé Photoplay

What William S. Hart himself believes to be one of the best stories he has had for some time and which certainly presents the popular Aircraft star at his very best, is "Breed of Men," the scenes of which are laid in the fertile bottom lands of Arizona, and which will be shown at the Lyric tomorrow. In brief it details the exploits of Wesley B. Prentiss, a bandit shark who succeeds in hoodwinking the westerners to their financial loss.

"Careless Carmody," a bandit pugilist, rides into the new town of Chloride and realizing he will make either a dangerous enemy or powerful friend, Prentiss succeeds in getting him in a gambling game from which he emerges "broke and naked." Then, by giving him back his horse and offering him the job of sheriff, the telegrapher gets Carmody on his side.

A love story enters when Carmody rescues a girl from a Mexican bandit. Later it is discovered that the bandit was a friend and that the settlers have no claim to the property. In short, they have been killed by Prentiss. Carmody has been singing his praises, but when he learns the truth and finds that the schemer has escaped, he goes after him to revenge and restore himself. He is believed to be in league with Prentiss, but when he captures the rascal in Chicago and brings him back to Justice, he is judged as a real man. Seems Owen is leading woman.

Judge Peck Coming

Attorney C. M. Searl, who is in Cincinnati on legal business, is expected to return Saturday with Judge John W. Peck, who will, Saturday afternoon, present to Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court some matters in connection with the $500,000 damage suit of the Robert Grace Contracting Company, of Pittsburgh against the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern Railway Company. The suit is for extras on the contract for constructing the railroad in Scioto and Pike counties. Attorneys Bannon & Bannon represent the defendant.

Judge Peck, who is one of the most prominent lawyers of the Queen City bar, is one of the leading candidates for the appointment as Judge of the United States district court at Cincinnati as a successor to the late Judge Hollister.

A motion for a new trial for James Thompson, former Pond Iron farmer, convicted by a jury Tuesday on a charge of second degree murder for killing Louis Metzger, was filed in Common Pleas court today by the defendant's counsel, Theo. K. Funk.

Fourteen reasons why the verdict rendered should be set aside are advanced in the motion. The most pointed of which are that the court erred in instructing the jury after they had retired for deliberation in permitting the state to introduce certain evidence as to what occurred after the fatal shot was fired as to what occurred between the accused and Earl Metzger.

Michigan Has No Star To Compare With Brilliant Harley

Columbus "Ace" Should Be Bearcat In Big Game At Ann Arbor Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 24—Opened its Western Conference offensive with the all-important engagement with Michigan, Ohio State's contender for Western Conference honors is prepared to meet the acid test of the season in decisive fashion. Both the Wolverines and the Buckeyes have been playing all season for October 25, the day which brings the two together at Ann Arbor.

Besides victories achieved in clean-cut fashion have failed to lift the lot of both eleemos in their minor engagements of the season. The Michigan machine crushed Case and Michigan Aztec in a manner that left no doubt as to the inherent power of the eleven. In a less impressive way Ohio State vanquished Ohio Wesleyan, Cincinatti and Kentucky State with but four down registered against the Buckeyes toward wall, and with its goal line twice endangere

For the first time in the 22 years of athletic relations between the two institutions the Buckeyes will enter the fray at least on even terms. Between the two eleemos there is little to choose from whatever angle the contest is considered and one is forced to conclude that the result will hinge largely on the battle of wits sure to ensue between Sparks, Wolverine quarterback, and Stinehouse, his Buckeye rival.

Slightly under a ton of Ohioans will oppose a shade lighter team of Wolverines. In both the forward wall and the backfield the Scarlet and Gray have a slight advantage. On the line Ohio State averages 188 pounds to 187 for Michigan. In the back field the margin is a trifle more pronounced, Ohio having an average of 166 while the best the Wolverine can do is 162.

Michigan has no star to compare with the brilliant Harley, although

Columbus Fans Yearn For Return Of Quinn

COLUMBUS, Oct. 24—Bobby Quinn, the genial business manager of the SL Louis Browns, was a welcome visitor to this town when Quinn was the man behind the gun and many of them believe the only chance for a return to good times is with Bobby back behind the proposition.

However, if Quinn does return to Columbus, it probably won't be as a disastrous factor. A man of his qualifications is bound to secure recognition and more than one proposition in other lines of business have been made that must appeal to him to the point where he is on the fence. He loves baseball, has made it his life's hard work and will hardly desert it.

Ruth Going To The Coast

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Oct. 24—A contract is made that he has accepted a call to baseball men interested in creating a mid-winter league in this section of California. Babe Ruth to receive $500 a game for playing of the Boston Red Sox will be the lone player to play two or three games a week.

May Trade Bush For Scott

DETROIT, MICH., Oct. 24—Reports from the market and it is natural to suppose Detroit would consider a deal, Scott is quoted as saying he will refuse to wear a Boston uniform again and that unless he is traded to some club in the West he will retire from the game.

PENNY ANTE

P. H. S. TEAM OFF FOR PARKERSBURG

And Mathewson Is Right

Christy Mathewson rises to remark that the Red Sox' chief trouble next season will be that they will be afflicted with over confidence. "That was our trouble this year. The Giants Jacobed under the false impression that they were invincible. When a team gets in this rut it will lose a lot of games," Matty says.

DICK KERR SIGNS

Dick Kerr hero of the world series, so far as the White Sox were concerned, has already signed his 1920 contract. Manager Gleason slipped over to St. Louis the other day, boosted the figure in Kerr's contract and the little southpaw immediately signed the dotted line.

This pitcher is a product of Sean Kelly when he was with Memphis several years ago, shunted him to Milwaukee for further training and eventually Kerr made his way to the American League, where he is expected to be an ace in the pitching line next season.

Mackey Put To Sleep

Before 300 light fans in Huntington a ten round bout. Three other fights rounded out a good little program arranged by the Tri State Athletic Association.

Hickey put Joe Mackey in the first edition.

Rejectors Fall Victims To Those "Clay Bats"

The Clay Bats, captained by George Moore, took three in a row from the 15 bowlers at the Whittaker-Glessner Fellowship alleys last night, all because Mr. Haupl, all-around athlete of the big plant, could not beat the whole gang single-handed. Mr. Haupl, while game as a pistol and while willing to try anything once, was off by his longbow and just managed to beat blind score. He, no doubt, would have done much better had he had some compunctions to encourage him, for he is a splendid bowler and one who will be heard from before the Whittaker-Glessner League is much older. He only totaled 305 but he had a lot of fun while doing so. "Hector" Himes, the old war hero of the big plant, was the second best bowler for the Clay Bats, although he is not putting his scores around the plant for the benefit of his fellow bowlers. He grabbed 372. The first-place honors went to Mr. Korn, who hit the wood for 451 and gave concrete proof that he is going to be a tower of strength to the Clay Bats. Mowery got better as the evening progressed.

The scores:

Claybats	1	2	3	Total
Himes	321	120	171	612
Mowery	322	121	178	621
Korn	364	158	166	688
Moore	115	116	120	351
Haupl	323	125	125	573
Total	620	674	703	1997

Don't Wear Smoked Glasses.
Worry is a pair of smoked glasses, through which all the world looks somber. The sunshine is as golden as ever, and the sky as blue, but through those smoked glasses everything looks dreary. If some of you would only pocket your worries, and see what the world really is like, it is pretty certain that you would make up your mind to do without smoked glasses in the future.

Oderous Epidemic.
A friend of mine has kept himself and his family immune from influenza in a district sorely smitten by evil-smelling onions.—Glasgow (Scotland) Evening Post.

Aptitude for Details.
"You know Johnson—great fellow for detail!" "He is that! He's the sort of chap who would go and get married and be able afterward to tell you whether it was Montezuma, Ishvara, or Tamboura they played during the ceremony."

"Philadelphia Measure."
When old Philadelphia was laid out a defective chain was used in the survey. This chain made each hundred feet three inches longer than it should have been. Properly in inch of Philadelphia is still defined in this incorrect measure. Hence the term "Philadelphia measure."

Mrs. Richard Crane.
Mrs. Richard Crane, charming wife of the American minister to Prague, capital of the Czechoslovak republic, is leaving this country to join her husband there.

Fish of Lake Erie.
Lake Erie produces more fish to the acre mile than any other body of water in the world.

N. & W. Eleven To Meet Fast Team In All Stars

Sunday afternoon, on the Hillbrook gridiron, the N. & W. eleven will clash with the Columbus All Stars, one of the best elevens in the state this season.

The Columbus All Stars form an organization of former high school and college players with several years' experience on the gridiron.

The N. & W. lads are practicing W. lineups. These three players are no hard for the big game, which will be strung here and will add a touch of the best attraction of the set. In order to offset this weight, the game will be called at 2:30, and experience of the Columbus team, sharp, and it is hoped a large crowd arrangements have been made to make it on hand, as the team is playing well.

"STUDENT CHORUS" OF COLLEGE MISSES WHO'LL STUDY ACTING, LATEST INNOVATION

Dorothy Mackae, a member of the "student chorus"

The most unusual chorus ever known to Broadway is the "student chorus" of Harry W. Savage's new comedy-with-music, "See-Saw" called such because practically all of its members are graduates of famous colleges. Another reason for calling it "student chorus" is the fact that each girl in her contract a clause which provides that she must study the profession of an actress by day, as long as she appears by night before the footlights, the plan being to develop real actresses.

Marvelous Hair Rope.

One of the most remarkable hair ropes is mentioned by Sir Frederick Treves in his book entitled "The Other Side of the Louvre." He describes it as lying curled up like a gigantic caterpillar within the great Buddhist temple at Banteay. It measures 200 feet in length and three inches in diameter, and is made up of contributions from the heads of many hundreds of thousands of Japanese women. Long ago it was used to drag them into place, and now it is carefully preserved, a sacred relic, with in the vast edifice it helped to raise.

Permanent Colors.

Antient Egyptians had a marvelous knowledge of colors, and they understood fully what colors would last. In the Egyptian temple the ground colors are as good as ever they were. The Egyptians worked their outlines in linoleum, used clay for their robes, colors for their yellow, and for green they used perhaps green jasper or mixed blue carbonite or copper with ochre. All these colors are permanent.

Recently an important section of Mexico City knocked fighting for an afternoon and thronged the biggest hall in the city to hear Enrico Caruso sing "Caruso."

HAS ITS EMBARRASSMENTS

SHOUTING before being out of the woods, or being too quick on the trigger are hits of homely American philosophy, non-conception of which brings confusion, as some quick and able newspaper writers have found in this week's prohibition election in Ontario province, Canada.

As the news thereof first came in it ran all one way, the wets were sweeping everything.

Instantly the learned editors proceeded to wisely fulminate that the prohibition tide had turned and to moralize on the rebuke the returned soldiers had given to those who had taken advantage of their absence to foist an objectionable condition into their habits and homes.

The next day, however, the back precincts began to be heard from and so solidly did they run one way and that towards prohibition, that it now appears the drys won by a heavy majority.

And therefore it becomes the turn of the anti-saloon league leaders to fulminate and to moralize, an opportunity to be sure, which they do not fail to avail themselves of to full amplitude. Especially do they lay stress on the proof that the soldiers themselves do not feel that any advantage was taken of their absence.

We detect moralizing, as a habit, so that aspect of the episode, we pass by, but our guess is that both are partially true, when it comes to a consideration of the soldiers' vote. When one approves of a certain public course, his desire is not qualified by his desire to do it himself, he is amply satisfied to have some one else do it, but if the thing goes contrary to his way of thinking, then he feels himself aggrieved if he has been deprived of voice in the decision.

One of these is exactly the attitude of the soldier towards prohibition. He who favors its adoption has no protest to offer, while he who was opposed feels aggrieved that he had no voice therein, and both positions are natural and sincere.

CIVIL SERVICE AND ENFORCEMENT

In appropriating two million dollars to enforce prohibition congress failed to include that the hosts of deputy liquor inspectors required shall be selected by civil service examination.

To be sure the civil service league vehemently protests this action, or rather non-action, denouncing it as a return to the old spoils system.

The trouble with the league is that it is obsessed with the delusion that there is an all pervading saving and sanctifying grace in civil service. In many kinds of public employment civil service regulations have worked out to more satisfactory results than did the former policy of partisan distribution of the jobs. That is not proof positive, however, that it will work out best under all conditions and everywhere. Indeed, it is readily to be seen where it will not. The matter of liquor enforcement seems to be peculiarly an instance where its methods would not serve fuller the desired end.

There are no laws so difficult of enforcement as those that carry as object the suppression of illegal traffic in intoxicants. To render them effectual, those charged with gathering the evidence of violations have to have special and peculiar talents, courage and caution, tact and shrewdness, an understanding of people and conditions. A civil service examination would not even remotely reveal any of these qualities; on the other hand, as ordinarily administered, it would in itself disqualify in the largest measure the men best fitted for these positions with unusual requirements. They could not pass its tests, which for the duties imposed and the work required would be no tests at all.

We are not given to excessive use, or otherwise of the nefarious "coffin tack," but when good Brother Wilson, Secretary of the Methodist Temperance Board, says the cigarette had impaired the health of two million soldiers in the American armies, we just wonder if he had thought of what that accusation might mean to the Y. M. C. A., The Knights of Columbus, The W. C. A. and the Salvation Army, all more or less church organizations and none of which is exactly given to hiding its light under a bushel, when it comes to telling the millions of cigarettes it handed out to those same soldiers.

Those New Yorkers must be a reckless lot. Eggs are worth a dollar a dozen in Gotham and they showered them plentifully upon the performers in a German opera.

POLLY AND HER PALS

IN THE MATTER OF AGES

NOTWITHSTANDING unusual appeals and some extra effort the registration of women for the November election is small.

Perhaps, the reason why no greater result was attained is that woman may only vote for school directors and there is no wide interest in the contest, though it is said the real stimulus back of the agitation for women's registration was a desire to beat a particular candidate.

An incident of the campaign, much remarked upon, was the reluctance of the women offering for registration to give their ages. Some thought there was no reason why they should be required to state in what year they were born and others regarded it as an impertinence to be asked to give their ages. The poll officers had no choice in the matter. They asked no questions other than those the law requires and that are necessary to make a proper registration list. The object of registration is that there shall be no fraudulent voting at the polls. To that end every registrant is required to give certain information, including age. Men are no more excused than women and it may be said that many of them are also loath to state how many years they have seen. In fact there is no great difference between the sexes in that respect, except men make more fuss over the peculiarity they choose to regard as solely feminine, when a woman displays it.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

True to her promise, Mrs. Host has he would term it, "a bit up." I went back into the shop and called Jim on the telephone.

"Coming home early for dinner dear?" I asked.

"I wasn't Ann," answered Jim. "Got a special contract to dictate, and I'm liable not to be up till 7. Why do you ask?"

"Because I'm sick, Jimbo. Oh not seriously; nothing to be frightened about. You will be up soon? That's darling. In an hour then. Good-by."

And verily I was sick—sick to the soul of Charles Belton's underworld haunts and sick of Jim's blitheness about him. Here was my chance to show Jim the sort of man his partner is.

"Let me help you get the table, you dear, sweet little woman," Belton was saying, his pigish eyes half shut and his clumsy hand on my arm.

I laughed, listening for Jim's key in the lock. I knew he would come in softly, fearing to disturb me.

"I'm not a dear, sweet woman. I'm a very cross person, because you've come to dinner on a night of leftovers."

"What do I care for the food? It's you I want to taste your kiss. Oh, don't draw away, you beautiful thing you know like me. Let go that downy paducan of yours. You're made for love. Come, follow your natural—"

I didn't hear the rest of his mouth-un speech. But I heard the ratty old elevator stop. I heard Jim's step at the door. Swiftly I hid my head on Belton's repulsive shoulder, stopping his ears with my hands. I didn't want him to hear Jim.

J. HAMPTON MOORE

Philadelphia is going to have a newspaper trained man for its next mayor—that is unless the impossible happens in the city of Brother Love—for "Hamby" Moore, addressed for the last thirteen years as Joseph Hampton Moore, member of congress from Philadelphia, has won the Republican nomination.

Congressman Moore is still an active newspaper man, inasmuch as he writes a column twice a week for a Philadelphia newspaper.

A friend describes him as "a bundle of well-controlled nerve, one energy; is fifty-five, but does not look it; is keen-eyed, straight speaking, not given to easy promises or secret details. He has sense of humor and is an eloquent and ready debater. He has written books and some excellent poetry. He opposed America's entrance into the war, but had one son at Metz, the married ones in the shipyards and two daughters training in hospitals. He attributes his many successes in life largely to his newspaper training."

Moore began his career at thirteen as a clerk in a law office. He got $2 a week. At eighteen he became a reporter on a Philadelphia daily. He did brilliant newspaper work during the Homestead riots and then won lasting fame as a newspaper man through his covering of the Johnstown flood.

Moore got into politics early and claims to have been the first McKinley bummer in Philadelphia. He was given his first Washington post by Colonel Roosevelt as chief of the bureau of manufactures in the department of commerce.

Perhaps the pinnacle of Congressman Moore's achievement has been the brilliant work he has done as president of the Atlantic Deepwaterways Association. Under his direction the association has induced congress to deepen the Delaware river up to Philadelphia, has secured a free canal from Hampton Roads has brought into government ownership the Chesapeake and Delaware canal and has in hand a ship can-

ARE OUT TO INCREASE THE RAIL RATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Railroad corporations have started the collection of data for presentation to the interstate commerce commission in advocacy of increased transportation rates. After Director General Bates declined in a conference yesterday to take an active part in the negotiations, the railroad corporations decided to act independently and started immediately the accumulation of material to convince the commission of the reasonableness of their demands.

The director general's refusal was based on the ground that the government had no intention of initiating advances, but he agreed to place at the disposal of the corporations the services of the experts of the railroad administration and all available information bearing on the subject.

The percentage of increase, which the railroads will ask, has not been determined, but 25 percent has been mentioned commonly as the amount. Operating expenses, it has been estimated, have increased about 30 percent and the deficit incurred by the government in the operation of the railroads in the first eight months of this year was approximately $250,000,000.

ULTIMATUM HANDED TO HARBOURMEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—Federal troops at Gary, Indiana, today patrolled with "trench guns" weapons of the sawed off shotgun type. They were thus repulsed by order of Colonel W. S. Mapes, commanding the strike area under military control after he had received reports that the infantry had been stoned by strike sympathizers.

Colonel Mapes said the troops would fire on attackers. Elsewhere in the district the industrial situation was reported generally unchanged.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT READY TO SIGN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—President Wilson had before him today the prohibition enforcement bill, recently passed by congress, with an opinion by Attorney General Palmer on its constitutionality.

Interest in the president's action on the bill was heightened by reason of the fact that the wartime enforcement section, making illegal the manufacture or sale of liquor of more than one half of one percent alcohol, becomes effective with his signature.

It was considered doubtful, however, by White House officials whether the president would be permitted by Rear Admiral Grayson, his personal physician, to consider the bill and the opinion today. Despite the president's neutrality yesterday and the day previous, Dr. Grayson was able to announce last night that "the president is satisfactorily maintaining the improvement which he has recently made."

JOHNSON AMENDMENT BEFORE SENATE

WASHINGTON, October 24—The amendment to the League of Nations covenant of the peace treaty by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, dealing with the voting strength in the council and assembly, was before the senate again today. Although it was hardly considered probable a vote could be reached, there were indications that would be made to bring the amendment to a roll call before adjournment.

The foreign relations committee's negotiations continued the subject of unlimited dispensation. Indications were that the reservations to the treaty would cause a long drawn out fight with both forces splitting from time to time on the various reservations. Neither the Republicans nor the Democratic leaders seemed to have absolute control of its following and both forces were laboring to strengthen their ranks for the final vote.

Small Riot At Canton

CANTON, Oct. 24—A half dozen persons, including one woman picket, were arrested here last night following trouble near the United Alloy Steel Corporation plant here, in which hundreds of strikers took part. Special police used their clubs on a number of strikers. The trouble followed fighting earlier in the day when strikers stopped street cars and automobiles carrying workers to the mill.

BULGARIA TURNS IN HER REPLY

PARIS, Oct. 24—Bulgaria's reply to the peace terms of the allied and associated powers were handed to Secretary Rustata, of the peace conference, this morning. The time limit for the presentation of the reply expired today.

The answer comprises three pamphlets, the first relating to the peasant and labor classes, the second to the territorial problems, and the third to the military, naval, aerial and reparations terms. The supreme council will be holding no session today. It will be holding no session today and take cognizance then of the reply.

DRAMATIC APPEAL BY LABOR SECRETARY AVERTS BREAK OF MINERS, OPERATORS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Secretary of Labor Wilson had ready another proposal to submit to the conference to remain in Russia until the miners were exonerated to save the country from the tragedy of a coal strike.

Both sides finally agreed to meet the two factions together, the Ingalls today to hear the new proposal.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED IN PARLIAMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Members of the Lloyd George cabinet are fully considering the situation which has arisen as a result of the adverse vote in the house of commons yesterday, when the government's amendment to the alien bill was rejected by a vote of 185 to 142.

Because of the fact there was only about half of the members of the house in their seats when the vote was taken, it is believed, the government will not resign, but it is possible that Edward Shortt, home secretary, who was in charge of the alien bill, may quit office. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house, received a delay until Monday for his colleagues by moving an adjournment immediately after the vote on the alien bill had been announced. Mr. Bonar Law's declaration that any subsequent action by the ministry would "depend upon the view of the house of commons as a whole," may indicate his intention on the part of the government to ask for a vote of confidence at an early date.

FITZGERALD UNSEATED

WASHINGTON—House unseats Representative John F. Fitzgerald, of Massachusetts, and seats Representative Peter F. Tague, both Democrats, and Saturday.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—The collapse of the industrial conference and other later developments probably accounted for the confusion of speculative sentiments at the opening of today's stock market. Stock shares, for example, moved contrastingly with some of the participants, but the tendency for the most part was toward improvement. Miscellaneous issues were prominent at substantial gains, notably Remington Typewriter and National Lead. Rafters, yesterday's most stable issues, reflected confident buying, especially trans-continental and grangers.

Columbus "Ace" Should Be Bearcat In Big Game At Ann Arbor Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 24—Open-quarterback Sparks has been mentioned as Western Conference offensive in that connection. In all departments with the all-important engagements of the game, the rugged, brilliant with Michigan, Ohio State's contender fleet-footed. Olson far outshines any for Western Conference honors is prepared to meet the field test of the season in decisive fashion. Both the Wolverines and the Buckeyes have been pointing all season for October 25, the date which brings the two together at Ann Arbor.

Decisive victories achieved in recent fashion have fallen to the lot of both elevens in their minor engagements of the season. The Michigan machine crushed Case and Michigan Aggies in a manner that left no doubt as to the inherent power of the eleven. In a less impressive way Ohio State trounced Ohio Wesleyan, Cincinnati and Kentucky State with but four down registered against the Buckeye forward wall, and with its goal line never endangered.

For the first time in the 22 years of athletic relations between the two institutions the Buckeyes will enter the fray at least on even terms. Between the two elevens there is little to choose from whatever angle the contest is considered and one is forced to conclude that the result will hinge largely on the battle of wits save to some between Sparks, Wolverine quarter, and Stinchcomb, his Buckeye partner, and Stinchcomb, his Buckeye right.

Billie Farnsworth, Davies and Schewitzer form a quartet of senior backs from which Dr. Wilce will pick a running mate for Captain Harley. Billie and Davies played brilliantly against Kentucky State, while Farnsworth was famous for himself against Cincinnati. Schewitzer is the veteran of the squad.

In Frank Williams, stocky fullback, Director Wilce comes closest to having a human battering ram of any fullback Ohio State has had in recent years. His specialty is punishing that best led by needed yard. Opponents of the Ohio variety have so far failed entirely to stop this Salmon lad. A bad leg handicapped him somewhat at the opening of the season but the underpinning is fully recovered.

Falling in an attempt to get a reduced rate to Ann Arbor for the game hundreds of Ohio State followers will go in a special train over the Hocking Valley that will leave here early Saturday morning. Scores of automobile parties have been arranged for and as a result of a fat day at the Kentucky game a hand of 40 or more pieces will be sent with the team.

Michigan has no star to compare with the brilliant Harley, although Slightly under a ton of Ohioans will oppose a slender fighter team of Wolverines. In both the forward wall and the backfield the Scarlet and Gray will have a slight advantage. The fine Ohio State averages 188 pounds to 187 for Michigan. In the back field the margin is a trifle more pronounced, Ohio having an average of 166 while the best the Footmen can do is 162.

Columbus Fans Yearn For Return Of Quinn

COLUMBUS, Oct. 24—Bobby Quinn, the genial business manager of the St. Louis Browns, was a welcome visitor here the past week. He has a host of friends here who would rejoice were events to shape themselves in such a way as to bring him back to Columbus.

However, if Quinn does return to Columbus, it probably won't be as a baseball factor. A man of his qualifications is bound to secure recognition and more than one proposition in other lines of business have been made that must appeal to him to the point where he is on the fence. He loves baseball, has made it his life's hard work and will hardly desert it.

With a father to the thought, of course, and Columbus fans are gossipping about the possibility of a combination of Quinn's friends urging the local club and putting the popular Bobby in charge of affairs. They recall the good old days of baseball in work and will hardly desert it.

This town when Quinn was the man behind the gun and many of them believe the only chance for a return to good times is with Bobby back behind the position.

The line-up will probably be the same as last week with the exception of Farrow who was unable to make the trip owing to a cut over his left eye.

To Play On Rickey's Team

DALLAS, TEX., Oct. 24—Polly McLarry has informed his friends here that he has reached an agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals under which he will join that team next spring as first baseman. In the just-season he played first base for Indianapolis and had a big year in the International League, hitting .327 in 141 games.

Confirmation of the deal is found in the fact that McLarry's name appears on the reserve list of the St. Louis Club.

ment is made that he has accepted a contract to play with the team that Vernon will enter in the proposed promotion of a mid-winter league in the section of California. ## HAS ITS EMBARRASSMENTS

SHOTTING before being out of the woods, or being too quick on the trigger are bits of lonely American philosophy, non-conception of which brings confusion, as some good and able newspaper writers have found in this week's provincial election in Ontario province, Canada.

As the news thereof first came in it ran all one way, the wets sweeping everything.

Instantly the learned editors proceeded to wisely intuiminate that the prohibition tide had turned and to moralize on the result the returned soldiers had given to those who had taken advantage of their absence to foist an objectionable condition into their habits and homes.

The next day, however, the back projects began to be heard from so solidly did they run one way and that towards prohibition, that it now appears the drys won by a heavy majority.

And wherefore it becomes the turn of the anti-saloon league leaders to intuiminate and to moralize, an opportunity to be sure, which they do not fail to avail themselves of to full amplitude. Especially do they lay stress on the point that the soldiers themselves do not feel that any advantage was taken of their absence.

We detect moralizing, as a habit, so that aspect of the episode we pass by, but our guess is that both are partially true, when it comes to a consideration of the soldiers' vote. When one approves of a certain public course, his desire is not qualified by his desire to make it himself, he is amply satisfied to have some one else do it, just if the thing goes contrary to his way of thinking, then he feels himself aggrieved if he has been deprived of voice in the decision.

One of these is exactly the attitude of the soldier towards prohibition. He who favors its adoption has no protest to offer, while he who was opposed feels aggrieved that he had no voice therein, and both positions are natural and sincere.

CIVIL SERVICE AND ENFORCEMENT

IN appropriating two million dollars to enforce prohibition congress failed to include that the hosts of deputy liquor inspectors required shall be selected by civil service examination.

To be sure the civil service league vehemently protests this action, or rather non-action, denouncing it as a return to the old spoils system.

The trouble with the league is that it is obsessed with the notion that there is an all pervading saving and sanctifying grace in civil service. In many kinds of public employment civil service selections have worked out to more satisfactory results than did the former policy of partisan distribution of the jobs. That is not quite positive, however, that it will work out best under all conditions and everywhere. Indeed, it is readily to be seen where it will not. The matter of liquor enforcement seems to be peculiarly an instance where its methods would not serve fuller the desired end.

There are no laws so difficult of enforcement as those that carry as object the suppression of illegal traffic in intoxicants. To render them effectual, those charged with gathering the evidence of violations have to have special and peculiar talents, courage and caution, tact and shrewdness, an understanding of people and conditions. A civil service examination would not even necessarily reveal any of these qualities; on the other hand, as ordinarily administered, it would in itself disqualify in the largest measure the men best fitted for these positions with unusual requirements. They could not pass its tests, which for the duties imposed and the work required would be no tests at all.

We are not given to excessive use, or otherwise of the notorious "coffin fact," but when good Brother Wilson, Secretary of the Methodist Temperance Board, says the cigarette had impaired the health of two million soldiers in the American armies, we just wonder what that conclusion might mean to the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, The Y. W. C. A. and the Salvation Army, all more or less church organizations and none of which is exactly given to hiding its light under a bushel, when it comes to telling the millions of cigarettes it handed out to those same soldiers.

These New Yorkers must be a reckless lot. Eggs are worth a dollar a dozen in Gotham and they showered them plentifully upon the performers in a German opera.

POLLY AND HER PALS

IN THE MATTER OF AGES

NOTWITHSTANDING unusual appeals and some extra effort the registration of women for the November election is small.

Perhaps, the reason why no greater result was attained is that women may only vote for school directors and there is no wide interest in the contest, though it is said the real stimulus back of the agitation for women's registration was a desire to beat a particular candidate.

An incident of the campaign, much remarked upon, was the reluctance of the women offering for registration to give their ages. Some thought there was no reason why they should be required to state in what year they were born and others regarded it as an impertinence to be asked to give their ages. The poll officers had no choice in the matter. They asked no questions other than those the law requires and that are necessary to make a proper registration list. The object of registration is that there shall be no fraudulent voting at the polls. To that end every registrant is required to give certain information, including age. Men are no more excused than women and it may be said that many of them are also loath to state how many years they have seen. In fact there is no great difference between the sexes in that respect, except men make more fuss over the peculiarity they choose to regard as solely feminine, when a woman displays it.

A. HAMPTON MOORE

Philadelphia is going to have a newspaper-trained man for its next mayor—that is unless the impossible happens in the city of Brothly Love for "Bumpy" Moore, addressed for the last thirteen years as "Bumpy" Moore, member of congress from Philadelphia, has won the Republican nomination.

Congressman Moore is still an active newspaper man, accustomed to write a column every week for a Philadelphia newspaper.

A friend describes him as "a bundle of well-controlled energy, is fifty-five, but does not look it; is keen-eyed, straight-speaking, not given to easy promises or small details. He has a sense of humor and is an eloquent and ready debater. He has written books and some excellent poetry. He opposed America's entrance into the war, but had one son at Metz, the married ones in the shipyards and two daughters training in hospitals. He attributes his many successes in life largely to his newspaper training."

Moore began his career at thirteen as a clerk in a law office. He got $2 a week. At eighteen he became a reporter on a Philadelphia daily. He did brilliant newspaper work during the Bonus riots and then won lasting fame as a newspaper man through his covering of the Johnstown flood.

Moore got into politics early, and wishes to have been the first McKinley lieutenant in Philadelphia. He was given his first Washington post by

Colonel Roosevelt as chief of the bureau of manufactures in the depart-

Perhaps the principle of Congressman Moore's achievement has been the brilliant work he has done as president of the Atlantic Deepwaterways Association. Under his direction the association has induced Congress to deepen the Delaware river up to Philadelphia, has secured

Masons Impressively Celebrate Centennial Anniversary

Parade, Banquet, Dances Add To Day's Festivities; Many Visitors Entertained

Those eight sturdy plowmen, who back in 1818 established the first lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in Scioto county, perhaps little realized the splendor in which the One Hundredth Birthday Anniversary of Aurora No. 45 would be celebrated, one hundred and one years from that memorable date. It was on account of the World War that the centennial ceremonies of the local Masonic lodge was postponed until this year.

Shortly before the reception at the Temple, at one o'clock Thursday afternoon, an airplane climbed over the city and hovered over the group of Masons standing in front of the Temple. It was then that many contemplated the wonderful changes that another hundred years of Masonry in Scioto county would bring about.

Following the reception, two hundred plumed knights from the Ironton and Portsmouth Commanderies as escorts, and eight hundred visiting and local Masons, under the leadership of Theo. Day, grand master for the dedicatory exercises in 1865 when the present Temple was completed, moved through the streets of Portsmouth. The Ironton, River City and Macabees bands and several minstrels filled with Masons completed the organization of the parade.

After the parade, H. F. Vincent, chairman of the general committee, opened the lodge at the temple and a short historical meeting was held. A buffet luncheon was served in one thousand Masons and the visiting ladies at 6:30.

Recollections of the early days of the lodge were aptly portrayed by A. J. Fuller, for years the faithful secretary of the local Masonic bodies. He traced the events through the years past up until the present day.

It was in those days, with the membership numbered at forty, when the lodge rented "elegant quarters" from Brother James Lödewich, on Market street for the sum of $24 a year, "the power to furnish candles and firewood. And it was with considerable humor the remark of Mr. Fuller concerning

Even in far off Siam women are leading the marts of trade and industry. The photo shows a pair of women river merchants on the River Menam in Siam. Their wares are fruits and vegetables, which they pick themselves. They paddle up and down the stream, visiting tribal camps and villages and carry on a brisk trade with the simple folk who do not know the life of the big city with its shopping centers and markets.

Loses His Watch Fob

Sometime between sunrise and bed-time Thursday, Julius Baesman, local star baseball player, lost a watch-fob which he prized very highly. It was in the form of two silver basketballs and was received by Mr. Baesman during a tournament while he was a member of a high school team. Mr. Baesman would appreciate very much its return to 615 Eighth street, or the Baesman Dancing Academy, Seventh and Chillicothe.
